

CHARLOTTE

Alive With Arts and Culture

CHARLOTTE-MECKLENBURG'S CULTURAL community is alive and thriving with arts, science and history. The greater Charlotte community understands that diverse cultural offerings are key to providing a rich and stimulating quality of life, complementing our children's overall education and contributing to our reputation as an outstanding city.

The Arts & Science Council of Charlotte-Mecklenburg (ASC) is committed to building appreciation, participation and support for arts and culture. The nonprofit organization serves and supports our cultural community through grant-making, planning, programs and services to ensure a vibrant community enriched with arts, science and history. ASC is poised to continue as one of the most vital United Arts Funds and Local Arts Agencies in the U.S.

Outstanding Community Support

ASC's Annual Fund Drive raises more than $8 million with the support of 26,000 individual and corporate supporters. Additional funding is received from the City of Charlotte, Mecklenburg County, other Mecklenburg towns and the North Carolina Arts Council. As a result of the community's support, ASC has granted more than $14 million to support artists and cultural education, neighborhood cultural products, and many arts, science and heritage organizations.

Public Art Enhances Communities

Public art plays a role in helping to personalize community history and identity, while enriching neighborhoods and community experiences, thus enhancing quality of life. Artwork includes an interactive sound installation at Bank of America's Seventh Street Station, a walkway trolley corridor in the Charlotte Convention Center, artwork for the Time Warner Cable Arena and a nationally recognized plaza at ImaginOn.

In 2003, the City of Charlotte and Mecklenburg County approved ordinances that appropriate 1 percent of Capital Improvement Project funds for public art. The ordinances ensure that artwork enhances and defines public spaces, while becoming an integral part of urban and economic development efforts.

For more information about ASC, visit artsandscience.org or call 704.333.2ASC.

Something for Everyone

The Charlotte cultural community generates $202.8 million in total economic activity and supports more than 6,240 jobs. Area cultural organizations offer volunteer and social opportunities for people of all ages. Children have an array of cultural avenues in which to participate, including choir and theater as well as hands-on children's museums.

Residents and visitors can discover Charlotte's rich history and heritage by exploring museums, historic plantations and cultural centers. For students, multiple colleges and universities offer training in the arts. Visit CharlotteCultureGuide.com to explore hundreds of local cultural events.
